He Discusses Question of Tithes.

Funds Cannot Be Diverted From Purpose Originally Intended.

Reason Is That Such Change Really Changes the Purpose of the Society.

OGDEN, Utah, May 1.-Charles A murthwalte does not take much stock n the report printed in a morning Salt Lake paper that a colossal petition to be signed by the members of all the wards f the church as answer to the suit of himself and Don C. W. Musser, for an accounting from the heads of the church of the tithing, will be introduced. He is certain that such a petition and protest can be secured, for the reason that fear of excommunication would bring it forth. The Evening Journal of today gives an interview in which he says:

Discuss the Question.

"I am not a lawyer, but a layman can see that such a petition would have no standing in court. It is really not worth discussing, although it makes a fair newspaper story. However, I can discuss the subject ethically, if not legally. It is elementary that funds paid into any society must be expended in the way and manner and for the purpose laid down in the constitution or in the trust of the society. Funds cannot be given for one purpose and used for another, even by the consent previously given of the majority of the members.

Purpose is Changed. Discuss the Question.

Purpose is Changed. Purpose is Changed.

"Why? Because that changes the purpose of the society. Indeed it makes another society altogether. All the members agreeing to such a change would not make it legal. Suppose, by way of illustration a society should be formed in Ogden whose object should be formed in Ogden whose object should be to preserve the peace and good order of the community, that the members should subscribe to a large fund—a million dollars—and supposing in due time (say after a few years) a majority of the members should vote to use the funds—not for the preservation of the peace—but for the spread of milliant amarchy, that action would be illegal, rull and void. The minority, insisting that the original object must be subserved by the funds of the society, would be and would constitute the society and thus only would the integrity of the society be preserved. If all of the members should have become militant anarchists and should vote for the spending of the money in ruin to property and law, such use of the money would be ing of the money in ruin to property and law, such use of the money would be fliegal and the State should step in and confiscate the society's money and prop-erty and proceed to spend and utilize them in harmony with the stated objects

FIGHT FOR HIS RIGHTS.

Smurthwaite Will Continue to Prosecute His Appeal.

Charles Smurthwaite proposes to fight for his membership in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints as long as he believes there is a power in the church to which he can appeal. He will carry this to the court of last resort, even to the court of high heaven. Under date of April 22 he addressed accommupication to Bishop E. T. Woolley, bishop of the Fourth ward of Oguen, which is herewith appended and explains itself;

Ogden, Utab, April 22, 1905.—Bishop E. T. Woolley, City—Dear Brother:—I have a last privilege to ask you as my bishop and spiritual father in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and as a member of the church and your ward (althoug technically an excommunicant) I feel that I am entitled to have it granted.

This privilege is that I be permitted to address the Saints of your ward prior to their being asked to vote in confirmation of my excommunication from the church by the high council of the Weber stake of Zion. I do not desire publicity for this address. In fact I desire, should my request be granted, that no announcement shall be made in the public press, in order that I may have the opportunity of speaking only to the people of my own ward, and not to curlosity seekers. "In my youth I frequently heard the elders of the church state to the people of my native land that the ministers of other denominations were permitted to of my native land that the ministers of other denominations were permitted to occupy the pulpits of this church in Zion, because the truth was never afraid of error. It is my earnest desire that the people of the Fourth ward, because they are called upon to confirm what appears to me to be an atroclous decision on the part of the Weber stake high council, shall have the privilege of hearing what you believe to be my error as against your truth, and thus have an opportunity of judging for themselves before they shall vote on so serious a matter as the excommunication of one of their fellowmembers.

"CHARLES A. SMURTHWAITE."
Eishop Woolley did not comply with the writer's request under the promise of deep privacy which Smurthwaite made. Neither did he send a reply through William F. Toller, as requested. Neither will Charles A. Smurthwaite, all his life a consistent Mormon, have the privilege of addressing his brethren in the church on questions that he believes to be true, though the same privilege has often been granted ministers of other denominations "because the truth is never afraid of the "because the truth is never afraid of the error." Here is the reply which was sent Mr. Smurthwaite in answer to his letter of April 22. It is dated April 28, six days from the date of the request, and undoubtedly had time to be communicated to Salt Lake and a reply thereto received. "Ogden, Utah. April 28, 1905.—Charles A. Smurthwaite, Ogden.—Dear Friend.—Replying to your favor of the 2nd inst., will say that we have decided adversely to your request to be given the opportunity of addressing the Saints in the meeting-house on the subject of your excommunication from the church. We can see no benefit which could accrue to any one from such an action, as the people all understand your position, and surely no good could possibly come from creating a discussion or scene incident to a denouncement of the authorities of the church in our assemblies. Respectfully yours.

Apostolic Liar Stands By Graft.

Declares Tithes Do Not Belong to Any One But the Lord.

Did Not Explain How Much Most High Received After Hierarchy Was Satisfied

Special to The Tribune

LOGAN, Utah, May 1.-The quarterly onference of the Cache stake has been n session here two days. The weather was stormy and disagreeable, but the Saints attended in large numbers. / President Joseph Morrell was in charge, as sisted by his supporters, Isaac Smith and W. W. Maughan. Three apostles were present and lent interest to the meetngs, these being M. W. Merrill, Charles

W. Penrose and George A. Smith, At the Sunday morning meeting, Presi dent Morrell, Isaac Smith, James H. Lin ford and Apostle Merrill were the speak ers. The Richmond apostle has been if for some time past. His subject was the "Trustee in Trust."

Not Approved by Apostle.

Some extensive improvements have been made here recently on the tabernacle and grounds, and the local authorities, it seems, had made requisition on the head of the church for some $4000 from the tithing funds to aid in this good work. This Apostle Merrill did not approve of, there being so many demands on the trustee in trust for money. The apostle considered that it would be in much better keeping if the well-to-do Saints here would go down into their pockets for this money.

Defends Trustee in Trust.

Defends Trustee in Trust.

He made a gallant defense of the trustee in trust and his method of disposing of the tithes, vouching for his honor and honesty, and encouraged the people to have entire confidence in him. Said the aged aposite: "Brother Brigham said if the Saints would pay a full tithe, he would agree to pay their taxes, their school assessments, and build their meeting-houses, and the trustee in trust doubtless would do the same. The trouble is that you do not pay a full tithe. There are men here who could afford to pay a thousand dollars a year for these public improvements, and thereby save the trustee in trust from being called on for such things. It would do them good to do this. They cannot take their money with them to the other world."

Apostle Smith Heard.

Apostle Smith Heard.

Apostle Smith Heard.

At the afternoon session Apostles George A. Smith and C. W. Ponroae were the speakers. Apostle Smith was dignified and more ornate in his remarks. Without naming any one he discussed the present agitation in Utah, explaining that the whole thing turns on the difference in point of view. He granted that the opponents of the church are intelligent and well-meaning, but see things differently from the Saints, and hence object to what they consider wrong. The Mormons, looking at the same things from a different viewpoint, see no wrong but virtue and the will of God in what they do, and are as honest as their opponents. The conflict thus may be inevitable, but this does not make it necessary to consider either side dishonest, victous or and does not make it necessary to con-sider either side dishonest, victous or wicked. Apostle Smith offered no remedy for the condition that divides Gentile and Mormon, contenting himself with a philo-sophical view of the situation.

Penrose on Tithing. Apostle Penrose entered upon claborate explanation of the law of tithing, his main purpose, apparently, being to silence some cavil or dissatisfaction as to the main purpose, apparently, being to silence some cavil or dissatisfaction as to the use made of these funds. He asserted that the tithes do not belong to the people nor the church, nor the trusteo in trust, but to the Lord. This being so, it is nobody's business how or for what purpose the tithes are spent. The Lord has a right to do what he will with his own, any medding, on our part being impertinence and vastly unbecoming. It was not difficult to see that the apostle wished his hearers to appreciate the filogic and bad grace of any Skint who may be disposed to demand an accounting for the tithes at the hands of the Lord's agent, the trustee in trust, and his points went home, many appearing to be entirely satisfied with the argument.

At the meeting this morning the attention

At the meeting this morning the attendance was greatly diminished, but there was eager interest apparent among those present. The names of the general and local authorities were read by Right Supporter isaac Smith and unanimously susialned by those voting. Apostle Penrose was given the floor, and entered upon a theological discussion of Mormonism.

Liar's Opinion of Mormons.

He said the Mormons are middle-of-the-read people, who go straight forward, looking neither to the right nor left, minding their own business, no matter what others may say or do, and asking only to be let alone. He advised the people to counsel with each other and these above them, and avoid being self-sufficient, illustrating by the home where children and parents confer, saying the sufficient, illustrating by the home where children and parents confer, saying the housband counsels with his wife or wives. I suppose I may use that word here, though there may be songe one present who will object; but if he objects, why, he will have to object, that's all. He counsels with his wives and they agree, if they can, but if they cannot, the head has his way, because this is his right and they must submit. Does this seem hard? There is no other way. The weaker must submit. It is no in the kingdom of God. We may counsel with each other, but the head of the church is supreme, and where there is a difference he must prevail and we submit.

Present Controversy.

Present Controversy.

Present Controversy.

Aliuding to the present controversy, he said there are two ways, one to go forward, looking neither to right nor left. doing the will of God, heeding not the outery against the church; the other is to listen to the enemies of God, go over with them, take part with them, joining with their clamor against the servants of God. This latter course has a consequence fearful and awful, a red-hot hell being pictured by the apostle as yawning for them. He exhorted his hearers against this course, admonishing them of its dangere, expressing sorrow for sons and

Information from hystanders revenled the fact that a young lady had been seen to pick up the hat, place it in a buggy in which she was riding with her father and mother, and drive toward Pieasant Grove Mr. Binns, with the city marshall of Pieasant Grove, located the girl at her home. A charge of vagrancy might properly have been preferred against a large and bushy coyote that attracted the attention of Patrolman Emil Johnson a night or two ago. The animal was wandering on the streets at late and unusual hours of the night, and it had no visible means of Vagrant Animal.

Just where the animal came from nobody seems to know. It may have come down from the hills to collect a bounty on its hide. This is not probable, how-ever, as it was altogether too tame for a creature fresh from the brush. But, whatever its antecedents, it had a series of adventures such as fail to the lot of but few coyotes.

Dog Makes Mistake.

The officer first sighted it on State street, near the corner of Second South, where it attracted the attention of a small dog. The dog, having more courage than size or discretion, gave a ferocious bark and started in pursuit of the shaggy visitor. The chase continued for half a block or so. Then a greatly surprised dog came yelping down the street. The coyete had turned about and was amisbly nipping the canine's tall every few jumps.

The shearing pens of this vicinity have closed, the shearing having been completed yesterday noon. The number of sheep sheared was about 150,000, netting very near a million pounds. The pens did not shear as many as they were expected to, on account of the storney weather, which compelled the sheep men to secure other accommodations.

Officer Advances on Coyote.

Officer Johnson rescued the pup and officer Johnson rescued the pup and then began to make advances to the coyote. The latter evidently had its doubts as to the honorable intentions of the policeman. When the officer was in the dark it would come quite close to him, but the moment he neared an electric light the effulgence of his star seemed to strike terror to the heart of the four-footed vag and he would fall far behind. Roped By Messenger Boy.

Roped By Messenger Boy.

The animal finally reached Main street and turned south. A messenger boy got a rope around its neck and led it to the hackstand on the corner. The hackmen entertained it to the best of their ability, but his coyoteship seemed bored. He was yawning dismally when it occurred to one of the Jehus that he might enjoy a little music. The drivers tuned up. The coyote immediately lost his blase air and began to take a vivid interest in the proceedings. At the third or fourth note it leaned back on its haunches, raised its muzzle toward the stars and showed the hackmen what real singing was.

Caused Windows to Rattle. Caused Windows to Rattle.

It was a soprano coyote. After running the scale a few times and getting the right key it rendered a luliaby that brought the police from four directions, startled the back horses and caused the windows of the hotels and rooming houses all along the block to be thrown wide over. open.

The ultimate fate of the coyote is not positively known. An employee of a well known restaurant said he was going to take it home. Perhaps he did. There may be no significance to the fact that "lamb stew" appeared on the restaurant bill of fare the following day.

UNITY CLUB ELECTION.

Officers for Ensuing Year Chosen at Last Night's Meeting.

The decapitated body of an unknown man was found recently about 200 yards from the line of the Sait Lake Route at male & south from Callente. When found it was so badly decomposed that examination was impossible and the remains were raked into a box and buried where they were found. The distance at which it was found from the railroad track made it sesmingly impossible for the cars to be responsible for the decapitation and it is likely that the mystery surrounding the manner of the man's death or the location of the head will never be solved. Dr. J. W. Smith, for some months past, surgeon for the road here, has been displaced by a friend of Dr. Hewelson of Lake Vegas, and a petition has been started by the railroad men here asking that the chief surgeon restore Dr. Smith to his position, as his work and personality were exceptionally satisfactory to railroad employees as well as town residents. club held last evening the following offi-cers were elected for the ensuing year: A.
